WORK IN PROGRESS

She is currently working/will work on several projects:

- (1) Collaborative projects with colleagues at PKU Institute for Global Health and Development as well as personal projects, focusing primarily on globalization, public health and the Covid-19 Pandemic; women/gender and health; women's and youth's sexual and reproductive health; healthy aging, and gender dimensions of global health policy, etc.

- (2) To revise and polish an unpublished book tentatively titled Visible Women, Invisible Work: The Everyday Experiences of Two Villages in the Post-1949 China. The manuscript draws on an empirical research funded by the National Social Science Fund of China: “The State and Rural Women’s Employment: A Comparative Study of 60 Years of Changes in Two Villages of Rural Western China”.
- (3) To finish my manuscript tentatively titled Unfinished Gender Revolution: An Explorative Study on the Lack and Building of Social Support Systems for Women with Children, which is based upon a field research sponsored by Beijing Social Science Fund: “A Study on Social Support Systems for Rural and Urban Women Having a Second Child in Beijing”.
